

Indian River Photo Club Newsletter February 2019

Hello Members,

The January club meeting was a great start to a new year. I want to thank Kirsten Kowalski for presenting us with a great program enjoyed by all.

“Creating Your Vision” was great program. Thank You Kirsten Great Job. Also a big thanks to Maria Heffernan for bring in photos for the mini exhibit.

At this month’s meeting (February 28) we will have Lou Lower as our speaker. His program will be about “Zone of Awe”. Wouldn’t it be great to have that with all are photos?

The IRPC has a number of Outside the Box Events coming up. They will be mentioned in the newsletter and also on the website. So, if you forget a date it will be easy for you to find it on the website.

Many Volunteers help to make the meetings possible and all members are encourage to help. Volunteers make our club great. I personally want to thank everyone who has helped make every meeting successful.

Reminder that if you haven't paid your membership dues that they are due. Expenses are paid for with your dues and without them the club will no longer be there for you to enjoy. Still $30.

Our next meeting will be on February 28, 2019 and will be glad to see you all there.

Keep your camera ready, your flash cards clean, and your batteries charged,

Billy Ocker, President IRPC

The March 2019 issue of Vero Beach Magazine will feature IRPC's Annual Juried Competition that was recently on exhibit at the Vero Beach Museum of Art.

IRPC Program - February 28, 2019

LOU LOWER

The Zone of Awe

Lou Lower spent forty years leading a number of investment and insurance organizations. He is now retired from full time work, but continues with some financial consulting and management.

Lou is a resident of Vero Beach but migrates to Chicagoland for summer and early fall.

He and his bride of 48 years, Adrienne, have two children and five grandchildren. In addition to spending more time with them now, they enjoy traveling far and wide to understand history and cultures around the globe.

In addition to photography and travel, Lou enjoys tennis and golf. And he serves as a director of the Abraham Lincoln Presidential Library Foundation.

Lou will be presenting a program titled, The ZONE of AWE.

(FYI: AWE refers to the feeling of reverential respect mixed with wonder when taking a photograph. Also referring to being in that time and space when you are awed as photographer with what you experiencing through the camera lens.)
